Laura Tennant tries out facialist Cherry Woods Full Bloom treatment...

by Laura Tennant Jun 29 2009

Cherry Woods is discreet about her celebrity clients but she will reveal that Simon le Bon once asked her to remove precisely seven hairs from his eyebrows and that back in the day she was responsible for Liz Hurley's makeup.

Her true passion, however, is plumping and refining the skin of her many loyal clients in Richmond and beyond, and after experiencing her signature treatment, the Full Bloom, I can see why.

Most facials rely either on high-tech equipment, or on cosmeceutical products, or on a more 'holistic' and 'natural' approach. Cherry uses all three, and has applied her years of experience and formidable beauty intelligence to tracking down (and establishing the scientific basis for) the most effective combination of products and treatments.

The Environ range supplies proven active ingredients including skincare's 'king of vitamins' Vitamin A; Eminence, beloved by Madonna and La Hurley, provides luxurious and delicious-smelling organic products; and Ominlux Revive photo rejuvenation uses red light waves to heal, tighten and lift. Add in great massage and 'CACI' non-surgical face lifting and you have two hours of unbelievably effective treatment.

The Full Bloom costs £130 at Cherry Woods Skin Clinic, 5 Hill Street, Richmond-upon-Thames TW9.
